The Introduction

A small intro.

We're a team of 4 friends looking to join the CNFT space. When we first set out on our CNFT journey, we found many unique and innovative projects. To name a few :

- DeadPxlz
- Claymates
- Yummi
- CryptoRaggies
- Pandorea

We were really interested on DeadPxlz, it had interactivity, compared to other projects it was a game changer. We thought to ourselves, maybe we can do it too. Maybe we can bring something to the space that no one else was thinking.

We had many iterations of ideas that were scrapped. We finally saw an opportunity in creating our own project, a project that we were confident that we and others would be interested in.

That's the birth of PenduloNFT

Sooo, why a Watch NFT ?

All four of us love watches, we've had dreams of owning a vintage or iconic piece from brands such as Rolex, Audemars Piguet, Patek Philippe etc. We're also interested in NFTs, albeit quite new to it compared to others.

So we thought why not just make a Watch NFT Collection. One where the NFT works just like a normal watch, with added functionalities and interactivity.

We've done our research on both Cardano and other blockchains, and most watch NFTs out there are in the form of jpgs, pngs and gifs.

We want to be a game changer in the Cardano ecosystem and push more ideas and innovation forward.

The NFT

Pendolo Watch

Pendolo watches are :

- a fully working watch
- interactive, with each collection moving forward more functionalities will be added along with animations
- inspired from designs of popular watch brands such as Rolex, Audemars Piguet, Patek Philippe etc with a twist of our own
- SVG based. No loss on quality of your NFT regardless of the screen size or scale

For our first release, we're planning on releasing 3333 watches

Interactions

While some watches are more special than others and have added features, some watches haven't been worked on, eg; Chronograph Watches

For reference here's the list of the possible interaction we're planning to implement for now:

- Animation on logo click
- Glow in the dark mode on click
- On some watches backgrounds of the watch face can change
- Can use additional functionality, for example stopwatch, chronograph, show current date/day
- Show watch attributes on double click

The Roadmap

2022 Roadmap

Q1 2022

- Pendulo Website ✓
- Release first collection of Pendulo Watches - 3333 units
- Airdrop for OG Penduleans

Q2 2022

- Collectors ranking and achievement system
- Watch collection showcase
- Release second collection of Pendulo Watches

Q3 - Q4 2022

- Collaborate with other projects
- Pendulo Marketplace

Leaderboards and Achievements

We want collecting Pendulo watches to be engaging and fun, so we decided to include a leaderboard and achievement badges

First, achievement badges. Simply put, achievement badges are badges given to collectors that has completed specific achievements. Badges will provide points, this will be useful for climbing the leaderboards

We will be listing out every public achievement for collectors to refer to and set their goals for. There's also secret achievements to add some spice into the mix

Leaderboards will be based on the points gained by collectors through achievement.

More info will be announced near the release of this feature

Watch collection showcase

Collectors will be given a page to view their collection, similar to a profile page. Collectors can share the link for others to view their collection

More info will be announced near the release of this feature

Future Plans

We also have other plans that we didn't include into the roadmap as we don't have a clearly defined ideas and priorities for them yet. We might include them into the next version of the roadmap, who knows

Some ideas might be put on hold and be pushed back

Some might even be scrapped in favor of better ones

Some might need further research from our end

For now, here's a list of ideas and things we want to achieve if possible:

- A mechanism to share collector's collection/achievements on social media
- Use NFT watch face in smart watch
- Create our own token
- Our own stake pools

Overall we want the best for our community members and collectors, we'll be continuously updating our roadmap and plans to meet the expectation of our community

We appreciate any feedback on any of the plans we laid out above.

The Team

We're four friends from Asia. We're not doxxed and don't plan to be as we want to maintain a lowkey status

Credits

Special thanks to every one of our team members, everyone that's close to us and supporting our journey into the CNFT scene both directly or indirectly

To the projects that gave us inspiration to go through and create this project. We would like to thank their contributions for both innovating the scene and inspiring new projects like us. We hope to reach the same heights or hopefully higher and collab with them in the future.

Thanks to our community members who supported us during this very early stages, we hope to deliver on our visions and goals with success.
